Press release

Dr. Riebensahm founds agribusiness recruitment agency in Germany

Kippenheim, 13.02.2021 - Riebensahm Agribusiness Recruiting, specialised in the recruitment of specialists and executives for agribusiness, started its comprehensive consulting services for the agricultural industry on 02 February 2021. The founder is Dr. Jochen Riebensahm, holds a doctorate in animal science and is very well connected in the feed industry.

In times of a long-standing shortage of professionals and executives in agribusiness, the importance of sector-specific services in recruiting is increasing, intensified by the consequences of the Corona pandemic. As a specialised service provider, Riebensahm Agribusiness Recruiting offers a comprehensive package of services in recruiting and coaching for managing directors, division heads, young talents and qualified professionals. Riebensahm Agribusiness Recruiting has offices in Germany in Lübeck. Kippenheim in Baden, in Quickborn near Hamburg, Luebeck and in Muenster.

Dr. Jochen Riebensahm grew up in a family of entrepreneurs who have been active in agriculture and related areas such as agricultural trade for seven generations. Due to his education as well as his many years of activity and professional success in the agribusiness, in business management as well as in recruiting, he can draw on a versatile and long-standing industry and personnel expertise. His personal industry focus is primarily on filling positions in the agribusiness segments of animal nutrition, animal health, animal breeding, animal hygiene and trade. Companies in the green sector and universities with 'green courses' value Dr. Riebensahm as a speaker and leader of seminars and workshops. In addition, Dr. Riebensahm supports agricultural universities and technical colleges as a career advisor.

Mr. Michael Witt could be won as a partner for Riebensahm Agribusiness Recruiting. Michael Witt graduated in agricultural economist and as a Senior Consultant Mr. Witt will take care of the agribusiness segments seeds, plant protection, fertilisers, bio-stimulants as well as horticulture. Thanks to his previous activities, Mr. Witt has an excellent international network with companies in crop production as well as banks and insurance companies.

Supporting companies in attracting qualified personnel and candidates on their career path is what drives both of them. Dr. Riebensahm: "I am pleased to see for how many companies and candidates I have already been able to achieve the "perfect match". A retention rate of over 95% after the probationary period confirms this.

Christian Böhnert came on board as a business coach and expert in recruitment diagnostics. He completed training as a travel agent and a master's degree in counselling psychology. From his activities as a coach, mentor, supervisor, consultant for personality profiles and for outplacement, he provides decisive tools with which he can significantly contribute to the selection and qualification of candidates at Riebensahm Agribusiness Recruiting.
